

2021-22 SEASON SOUTH ATLANTIC CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

WHAT IS THE US YOUTH SOCCER NATIONAL LEAGUE?

The US Youth Soccer National League is debuting a new structure for the 2021-22 season. The primary competition takes place at the multi-state level within the network of 13 regionally-aligned conferences across the country. The national platform that ties together the Conferences is National League P.R.O., which qualifies the top teams from each National League Conference to compete for slots into the US Youth Soccer National Championships. The National League Showcase Series, which operates alongside National League P.R.O. events, provides opportunities for more teams to participate in showcases that match up similar teams from varying areas of the country.

The South Atlantic Conference, Managed by EDP Soccer, is one of 13 conferences that fall under the scope of the National League and operate at a multi-state level — providing high-level competition on a consistent basis at a targeted local level (Maryland, Delaware and Virginia).

The South Atlantic Conference's top divisions (team-based and/or club-based) offer its teams an opportunity to qualify for the US Youth Soccer Eastern Regional Championships, which are held annually each summer. All teams within the South Atlantic Conference also have the opportunity to qualify into National League P.R.O. for the next seasonal year. Conferences teams also can take part in the National League Showcase Series, which provides teams with a chance to play cross-conference matches in a national setting with increased exposure to college, professional and national team scouts.
